
We stand with you.

“To every woman employed in agriculture who has had to fend off unwanted sexual advances from her boss, every housekeeper who has tried to escape an assaultive guest, every janitor trapped nightly in a building with a predatory supervisor, every waitress grabbed by a customer and expected to take it with a smile, every garment and factory worker forced to trade sexual acts for more shifts, every domestic worker or home health aide forcibly touched by a client, every immigrant woman silenced by the threat of her undocumented status being reported in retaliation for speaking up and to women in every industry who are subjected to indignities and offensive behavior that they are expected to tolerate in order to make a living: We stand with you. We support you.”

We support you.

#TIMESUP

timesupnow • Following timesupnow It's time to shift the balance in the workplace, from representing the few to representing us all. #TIMESUP

Load more comments

sammieblackmore @cansic so so sooo many people are supporting this movement and you are one in a million who is against this. why do you not support this? i don't understand, are you sexist?

sammieblackmore @cansic hahahhaa what? you previously commented that this movement was women "whining" about small problems. sounds sexist to me!

chowdersummer @iah199x

51,885 likes

JANUARY 1

Add a comment...